THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

50X1-HUM

1. In the barracks on Deak Street and in the Festetics Castle in Fo Street in Keszthely, there are about 500 infantrymen of the Hungarian Army, who have been there since the beginning of May 1950. They are given daily instruction on the field which was formerly used by the Tank Officers' School. The infantrymen are armed with rifles, pistols, and machine guns. The Tank School no longer functions.
2. The class of 1928 began its military service at the beginning of May 1950. The call-up of the remainder of the class of 1927 and of the entire class of 1929 is being prepared.
3. At Marcali a four-story barracks, suitable for an infantry battalion, is under construction and will soon be finished.
4. The 3 Battalion of the Nagykanizsa Fusiliers Regiment is stationed at Zalaegerszeg with a total complement of approximately 1,800 men. There is also a battalion of frontier troops numbering over 500 men.
5. Near the town of Esztergom there is a rocky mountain, the Sator-Megy, where caves were recently being dug, apparently to serve as dumps. Near this site a new barracks has been built to replace the one destroyed by bombs in the last year of the war. A railroad is now under construction from Esztergom to the barracks. The barracks serves as a storage dump for tank chains, large rubber tires, various repair machines for workshops, heavy cases of spare parts, etc.
6. The battalion of the Fusiliers Regiment of Nagykanizsa, formerly stationed at Nagyatad, has been transferred to Marcali and is quartered in new barracks. The Frontier Battalion Command has been transferred to Nagyatad together with an Instruction Company with a complement of some 500 men, more than half of whom are recruits from Nagykanizsa.
7. Hungarian troops of every branch are located in the group of barracks in Szredeves Street in Kaposvar. These include a battalion of the Assault Regiment "Kiss Janos" and groups of the 7 Infantry Division. At Hotel Turul in the same town there is a Russian command with a complement of 26 officers, including three colonels. There are no Russian troops.

A new detachment numbering 65 men coming from the Körment Company was set up at Felsőszölnök on May 1950 on a large farm on the Janoshegy to take over the service in the zone approaching the Austrian frontier. The old Felsőszölnök detachment has become the first detachment of the Orszentpeter Frontier Guard Company and comes under the Zalaegerszeg Frontier Battalion. Commanding officer of the Orszentpeter Frontier Company is Captain Kalman Olah. Commanding officer of the Felsőszolnok detachment for the zone approaching the Yugoslav frontier is Sandor Madarasz, a Warrant Officer of the AVO. This detachment has a complement of 66 men. [redacted] Recruits totaling 560 men joined the Zalaegerszeg Frontier Battalion between 2-5 May 1950. There is a section of the Political Police at Szombathely under the command of Lieutenant Dremmel, who is assisted by Warrant Officer Janos Voros, and Lajos Mucci. This section has at its disposal four automobiles, including one jeep. [redacted]

15. [redacted] the formation of the seven infantry divisions is far from complete and will probably not be complete even at the end of 1950. The horse-drawn assistance companies, the motorized assistance companies, the motorized communications battalions and companies, and many other formations are still in the planning stage.

16. There is a new division of the military districts. Headquarters of the First Military District is at Budapest. Recruiting districts are located in Budapest, North Pest, Esztergom, Hont, Fograc, Neves, Borsod, Abauj, and Semplen (sic). Headquarters of the Second Military District is at Pecs, with recruiting districts in the Trans-Danubian zone. Headquarters of the Third Military District is at Szeged, with recruiting districts at Bacs, South Pest, Csongrad, Bekes, and Csanad. Headquarters of the fourth military district is at Debrecen, with recruiting districts at Hajdusz, Szabolcs, Bihar, and Szolnok.

17. A new three-story barracks is being constructed next to the former military depot in Soptei Street in Szombathely, reportedly to house the headquarters of the AVO. Underneath the barracks is a prison.

18. The complement of the Frontier Guard detachment of Pornoapati, which is a part of the company at Szombathely, numbered 57 men on 12 April 1950. In command of the detachment is a Warrant Officer of the AVO. The former commanding officer is now second in command.

50X1-HUM

19. A small company of Frontier Guards is at Körmed. There is also a small group of Russians. At Sarvar there is a police detachment under the command of Lieutenant Irvin Devai, a Communist. There is a group of political police but there are no military troops.

20. In the barracks in Old Street in Zalaegerszeg, there are approximately 2,000 recruits of the infantry and the artillery, receiving instruction for service in the Frontier Guard. In the barracks opposite the Franciscan church in the same town, there are about 1,000 recruits.

21. At Csepreg there is a company of Frontier Guard troops under the command of Lieutenant Istvan Armai, a fanatical Communist who treats his soldiers very badly. The troops are quartered in Rottmann Castle in Lajos Kossuth. In May 1950 much of the personnel of this company was transferred. Warrant Officer Istvan Koicsis was transferred to Koszeg. Lieutenant Pal Csilla was transferred to Szombathely, and Captain Kende to Letenye. An underground munitions factory is reported to be located at Diros.

At Szekesfehervar there is an artillery group and also a cavalry formation. The Assault Regiment, "Kiss Janos," is located in the Pecs-Szekszard-Kaposvar zone. There is a horse-drawn artillery group at Tolna and a mechanized artillery group at Pecs.
24. There is no indication that there are at present groups of para-military partisans in the zone bordering Yugoslavia. In the spring of 1949 there were "liberty" partisan corps) in this zone who worked on the construction of roads to Yugoslavia.
25. The MSZHSZ has subdivided the entire territory of Hungary into districts and in every district has established a District Center. Seven "sport" groups have been established, and each one of these represents a group for para-military instruction. Most of the participants are men, though women are admitted as volunteers. Women are not compelled to participate, but they are subjected to a certain amount of moral pressure to do so. The total number of members of the MSZHSZ, according to the Hungarian press, is approximately 300,000. The seven "sport" groups are as follows:
- a. Target practice: Theoretical and practical instruction in the use of small arms is given. There are three hours of theoretical instruction each week and three hours of practice in the field. Weapons employed are the Mauser 39, Hungarian carbine, Russian rifle, automatic pistol model .42, light machine gun, Russian sub-machine gun, heavy automatic rifle, Vecsey type hand grenades, etc.
 - b. Motor Section: Instruction is given on how to transport infantry units from one place to another. There is theoretical instruction with practice in the field. The students are taught to drive vehicles and tanks and how to maintain them. They also learn to ride motorcycles. At the end of the course they are given drivers' licenses.
 - c. Aviation Section: Theoretical and practical instruction in flying airplanes and gliders is given. Examinations are held at the end of six
